REPORT OF SELECTMEN.

In presenting this annual report to the tax payers of the Town of Amherst, we desire to say that we have endeavored to keep within the very liberal appropriations made at the last annual meeting. In the first of the season we found the road machine which had been in use for several years was badly worn so that new parts would be required and other parts liable to give out when it was mostly needed, so thought it advisable to procure a new machine at an expense of $250 and keep the old to use in case of need. Our roads have been kept in good condition by road agent Bontelle, but we would recommend that all work with the machine and most of the carting be done before July 1st, which would give us better roads in the summer and spring.

We received a petition signed by a good number of the tax payers of the town calling our attention to the condition of the floor in the upper town hall and asking for a new one, and on inspection thought it advisable to relay the floor this year, as in the near future other repairs are needed on the building. The interior of the hall should receive a fresh coat of paint, to which your attention is called by an article in the warrant.

We have received from the estate of the late Joel Parker a legacy of $1,000.00, the income of which is for the Parker lot in the cemetery so far as needed, and any balance to buy books for the Library. We have invested the same in the Amoskeag Savings Bank of Manchester, and as the town is free from debt, with a good surplus in the Treasury, we question the propriety of her borrowing the cemetery trust funds and paying interest on the same, but would recommend that they be invested in some savings bank and if necessary the town can procure short loans in anticipation of taxes.

We found on looking over preceding invoice books that there was little or no money on hand, at interest or in banks, to be taxed, and acting according to law, and following the custom of adjoining towns, we searched the records and from them added about twenty thousand dollars to our taxable property. While in some cases this may seem like an injustice or double taxation, yet it is the only law on the statute book today by which we could be governed. We urged our representatives to the general court to make an effort to amend the present law so that private investors have the same rights as savings banks, viz., all money loaned on mortgage at 5 per cent. or less should pay a tax of  $\frac{3}{4}$  of 1 per cent.

Large amounts of lumber are being cut off each year, thus materially reducing the taxable property in town, and in about the same proportion the different departments seem to call for more money. While we believe in progression and do not advocate letting any of the town interests suffer for want of funds to keep them up, yet with the present tax rate the watchword should be retrenchment wherever possible. And if the different departments would, instead of striving to see how much money they could get to use, be as alert to see if they could not get along with less, we think it would be appreciated by those who have the taxes to pay.

As we say, large amounts of lumber are annually being cut off and the echo of the woodsman's axe is hardly gone before there comes an appeal for a reduction in valuation, but no such haste to get them raised in value after years of growth. To our knowledge wood lots have been sold for three, four and even six times the amount they stood on the assessor's books for and on the other hand some real estate is assessed for 100 per cent. and even more of what it would sell for and in justice to all we believe there should be a revaluation of all the real estate in town.

Respectfully yours,

Selectmen of Amherst.

REPORT OF THE BOARD OF EDUCATION.

The annual school meeting was held in the Town Hall, March 13, 1902.

Mrs. S. E. Dodge, who had previously served twelve consecutive years and was serving a part of the unexpired term of Rev. H. B. Marshall, resigned, was elected a member of the Board of Education for two years; W. W. Sloan was re-elected a member of the Board of Education for three years.

W. W. Sloan was re-elected treasurer of the school district.

The Board organized at its first meeting as follows: Rev. A. J. McGlown, Pres.; Mrs. S. E. Dodge, Sec. W. W. Sloan was given charge of repairs, the purchasing of fuel, etc. The matter of school supplies was assigned to the Secretary. The supervision of the rural schools was divided between the President and the Secretary.

The result of the annual meeting was such as to make various changes necessary, which the Board of Education, so far as it came under its jurisdiction, has endeavored to carry into effect. The Legislative enactment of 1901 pertaining to the education of scholars in towns not supporting high schools led to the consideration of the question of establishing an approved high school.

The question was freely discussed, and being submitted for decision it was voted to establish a High School according to the requirements of the article in the statutes pertaining thereto. This action led to the consideration of the question of providing suitable accommodations for the new order of things, and a committee consisting of E. C. Hubbard and E. K. Burtt was appointed to act with the Board of Education in making recommendations as to how these accommodations could best be provided. At a subsequent meeting the committee recommended that an addition of twenty feet, corresponding to the original dimensions, be made to the north end of the brick school house. The addition would furnish a suitable room for the High School Assistant and a convenient and commodious room for a grammar school. The recommendation of the committee was adopted, and the Board of Education was appointed a building committee.

This appointment added not a little to the labor and responsibility of the Board of Education. The work was undertaken in early summer and its various parts assigned to experienced workmen. E. Riley of Milford had charge of the foundation. The wood work was committed to E. K. Burtt, the masonry to W. S. Weston, the painting to A. Decatur. It was hoped that the building would be ready for occupancy by the first of September, but on account of unfavorable weather and certain inevitable delays occasioned by the variety of workmen—stone layers, masons and carpenters—the work was not entirely completed until September 20th. The entire work was performed with faithfulness and skill, and at a cost though considerably greater than the original estimate, yet not so great when the advance of nearly everything going into the construction is considered, as to invite any very severe criticism. The reader is referred to the Treasurer's statement for the amount of expenditure.

The citizens of Amherst can congratulate themselves that they are now in possession of a High School house which is not only ornamental but commodious and convenient.

The passing to an approved High School which was effected at the beginning of the present school year, was not a difficult matter in view of the fact that for several years progress was making toward such a result. Two years of regular High School work had been undertaken and two classes having completed the course had been graduated with diplomas, and a third year had been added and a class was pursuing the studies thereof when the new law to which reference has been made went into effect. This improvement over "The go as you please" system which for a long time had been in vogue was effected by the earnest and persistent endeavor of Miss Mary E. Fulton, who for six consecutive years occupied the principalship in which she manifested not a little efficiency as an instructor and tactician. After the close of this long period of service she handed in her resignation, though she was cordially invited by the officials to assume the principalship of the approved High School.

Miss Blanchard who had assisted her for a year with a good show of efficiency, being called to a more remunerative position in Athol, Mass., also resigned. This action necessitated the securing of two new teachers for the High School. The search for a new principal resulted in the securing of Miss Harriet E. Park of Mystic, Conn., who had been principal of a single High School for eighteen consecutive years and who had enjoyed good educational advantages as well as professional training. Miss Edith Goddard of Campello, Mass., a young lady without experience, but who had been thoroughly educated and also professionally trained, was secured as assistant. The Board of Education congratulated itself upon its success in securing such talent for this important work; and, having observed the efficiency which each teacher displays in her department, after many weeks, it congratulates itself anew.

With a full course of study and only two teachers to conduct it, it is hardly necessary to say that the teachers must give themselves with untiring diligence to their work. On account of previous work unperformed, the senior class has been obliged to do considerably more than it ought to do, and more than subsequent classes which are regularly in the work will be compelled to do in order to cover the same ground. It is hoped, however, that the class will come to graduation in June with all the work fairly well done, though it is possible that the diploma, if conferred, will not possess equal value to all.

With the establishing of an approved High School the Grammar School became a necessity. This school is very satisfactorily provided for in the room furnished on the lower floor of the brick building by the addition, together with a part of the space which was previously used as a hall. The pupils receiving instruction in this room represent two distinct grades. Intermediate and Grammar grades. They are instructed by a single teacher, Miss Marion E. Fowle, a graduate of our own State Normal School, who manages the combination with ease and efficiency. This school is designed to give thorough instruction in the common school branches, and its diploma will be recognized as a sufficient passport to the High School.

If in this report the High and Grammar Schools have received the first and greatest attention, it is because in their present condition they are new comers and not because they are of so much more importance than the schools scattered up and down throughout the town. The rural school still has a right to be, and to be noticed.

More and more the work done in it challenges admiration. In more than one instance it represents a whole system of schools, from the kindergarten to the Grammar School in one. In order to succeed the teacher must be tactful and versatile. She must be able to govern scholars of all temperaments and ages and apt to teach the same. She deals with fundamentals and consequently her work is important beyond compare. Amherst has nearly half a score of such teachers. Some of them are veterans, and all of them can boast of more or less experience. In only one instance, and only during the short winter term, has a teacher without experience been employed, and her work was of a nature to be commended. All the others in their respective places as heretofore have been faithful and the result realized has been creditable.

The Primary School, with its alert and efficient teacher, continues to hold the high rank which for a long time has characterized it. The work in this school of beginnings during the year has been highly satisfactory.

Vocal music has received regular attention in all the schools in the brick building. Miss Goddard, who has charge thereof, seems well adapted for this important work.

The class in physics has been greatly assisted in the study of that interesting science by the apparatus which has been added to that already in use. This addition was made possible by the proceeds from the Nutt fund, a benefaction by which in more ways than one we have profited.

As a means of stimulating the patriotic instinct the W. R. C. has hung on the walls of each school room a picture neatly framed of Ex-President McKinley, which, as a companion piece of that of Washington, previously purchased, adds not a little to the adornment of the several rooms. These pictures were procured in part with the proceeds of an entertainment given under the auspices of the above named organization by representatives from the several schools.

The King's Daughters have hung in the Grammar School room a picture of the more prominent American essayists and poets.

A picture entitled "Authors of the U. S.," the gift of Mrs. E. F. Locke, hangs over the teacher's desk in the High School room.

A fine picture of Miss L. C. Lawrence, framed in heavy gilt and plush, the gift of Mrs. C. D. Wilson, adorns the wall of the Primary School.

The prizes which are yearly distributed among the scholars in all the village schools, are made possible through the generosity of the person whom this picture represents.

Mrs. A. M. Wilkins has given a very life-like picture of Abraham Lincoln for the benefit of the school at No. 4.

REPAIRS.

It is the purpose of the Board to keep the several school houses comfortable and attractive by giving prompt attention to needed repairs. The following houses have received attention during the year. New paper has been hung at Nos. 2, 6, 8, 9 and 10. No. 6 has been further improved with a new floor.

The High and Primary School rooms were rendered not a little untidy by the dust and debris which the enlargement necessarily entailed. These rooms subsequently received thorough cleansing and the High School room was further improved by the white washing of the ceiling and the papering of the walls. In this improvement the school room not only, but the halls leading thereto likewise shared. In the assistant's room and in the Grammar School room, composition blackboards and new furniture were installed.

Contrary to expectation it was found that in order to furnish sufficient heat for all the schools in the brick school house a new furnace would be needed. Accordingly one was purchased and placed in position at the north end of the basement.

The two furnaces combined are of sufficient capacity to furnish heat for the several rooms on the most unfavorable days.

REPAIRS NEEDED.

All the rural houses in which schools are to be continued, without exception, should be whitewashed before the opening for another term. In some of these, this is an imperative demand.

CONCLUSION.

All the schools with one exception have been in session thirty-two weeks. At No. 2 on account of sickness of the teacher four days are wanting.

In some of the other districts, on account of sickness and other causes, there have been suspensions, but the time has been made up.

The scholars living in the extreme south of the town who have hitherto been provided for in two schools in Merrimack, have been regularly conveyed during the fall and winter terms to No. 3. No. 7 has been closed through the year. The High School is scheduled at thirty-six weeks for a year. In order to meet the expense accruing from this extra time the proceeds of the Nutt Fund have been heavily drawn upon. This fund should not be counted on for this purpose.

If the district would appropriate a few hundred dollars as an emergency fund, it would save the Board of Education from no little embarrassment.

In order to meet the exigency which has arisen from the new order of things, the Board has been obliged to presume upon the good nature of the citizens in general in the providing of means to make up a deficit.

The change in the several terms makes it necessary for the High School to continue beyond the limit of the financial year. Some of the teachers whose schools have closed have not received full pay for their services. That the several schools might share alike as to the number of school weeks, the Board allowed them to go on when the money to pay them was not in sight, believing that there would be no objection to making up for the arrearage when the time for appropriation came around. The Board trusts that in this matter its confidence in the citizens at large is well grounded.

Amherst at present enjoys school privileges of which she has reason to be proud. And for this its citizens are to be commended. May they continue to be generous in their appropriations and in their readiness to co-operate with those who have this important interest in charge.

ATTENDANCE.

The whole number of scholars found enrolled upon the school registers, during the year, between the ages of five and fifteen is 162. Above fifteen, 24. Less than five, 3. The following tables give a summary of attendance as appears in the school registers.

CONDITION OF BUILDING AND GROUNDS.

The building is in excellent condition. No repairs have been made the past year. The posts in front of the library and the fence bordéring the east side of the grounds are decaying and before long will need repairs.

NEEDS.

Attention is again called to the limited shelf space for the accumulating volumes, already exceeding the expectations of those who established the library. The library is crowded today; the stacks encroaching on the floor space intended for and heretofore devoted to the executive work of the librarian.

Appended are the reports of the treasurer, a list of the magazines taken and a list of the books added to the library during the year.

Very respectfully,

THE TRUSTEES.

The Selectmen of Amherst.
